

transformations

Steal Their Glow

Sure, they have great genes. But even the most gorgeous stars don't roll out of bed in the morning looking perfect. Here, top experts reveal which skin-care products and makeup tricks keep their clients looking luminous

SIENNA MILLER

SIENNA'S SECRET WEAPONS

Colbert M.D. Heal & Soothe night cream, $140; colbertmd.com.

New York Dermatology Group Surfer's UV Defense SPF 30 sunblock, $16; nydg.com.

La Roche-Posay Nutritic Emulsion 2.5% cream, $30; laroche-posay.us.

Derm approved!

Radiance ritual

Cleanse "Even minor upsets show up on fair complexions," says Sienna Miller's dermatologist, David Colbert, who recommends a mild, fragrance-free wash to remove dirt and makeup without disturbing the skin's natural protective barrier.

Exfoliate Removing dead surface cells helps skin look its brightest. "Just avoid anything grainy or scratchy," says Dr. Colbert. Miller uses the N.Y.C. dermatologist's Intensify Facial Discs—pads laced with lactic acid, a nonabrasive chemical exfoliant.

Paddle For protection against skin-dulling free radicals, Miller slathers on sunscreen. At night she switches to super-nourishing Colbert's Heal & Soothe cream. (For a less pricey alternative, try La Roche-Posay Nutritic, says Dr. Colbert.)

Makeup must-haves

Base Miller likes to flaunt her freckles and dewy skin, says the star's makeup artist, Kate Lee, who uses Nars primer all over and foundation only on the T-zone.

Concealer To send dark circles packing, Lee swears by Shiseido concealer. "The peachy hue blends with fair skin and cancels out any hint of blue," she says.

Luminizer A few swipes of well-placed bronzer gives Miller a warm, sun-kissed sheen. Lee uses Chanel Soleil Tan, which has a subtle shimmer.

1 Nars Pro-Prime Skin Smoothing Face Prep makeup primer, $30; narscosmetics.com. 2 Make Up For Ever HD Invisible Cover foundation in No. 115, $40; sephora.com. 3 Shiseido Natural Finish cream concealer in Light Medium, $25; sephora.com. 4 Chanel Soleil Tan de Chanel bronzing powder, $50; chanel.com.